

Leon Trotsky Brigade

Wednesday, 27 February 2008

LEON TROTSKY BRIGADE. A group of terrorists that hijacked a Russian airliner in 1986. The group was determined to "exact revenge on the heirs of the murderer Stalin". Forty-five years earlier in Russia, Trotsky was a political rival of Stalin who was murdered while in exile. The Brigade intended to crash the airliner into a Soviet chemical plant, causing an explosion that would spread lethal toxic gases all over Russia. A small group of Joes smuck on board the plane when it stopped to refuel and stopped the hijacking. They were forced to kill all the hijackers on board the plane.
(GI 50)