Hi-Tech
Friday, 17 September 2010

 HI-TECH. The code name used by U.S. Army Corporal David P. Lewinski, born in St. Paul, Minnesota. An expert in computer technology and advanced weapons systems, Hi-Tech served with the reinstated G.I. Joe team. Good natured and unable to say "no," he was willing to fix his fellow Joes' personal vehicles and electronics. Today, like many Joes, he is a reserve member of the team. During the conflict known as World War III, Hi-Tech was part of the security team at The Coffin, the Joe team's high security prison in Greenland. One of many Joes listed on World War III member assignment map first seen in AE #28. (AE 25 (cover); Figure: 1)